

The best new homes in Britain

‘Exciting’ new homes in North West London

West Heath Place, North West London's latest new build home development is expected to attract 'a lot of interest' from buyers, according to the head of the new homes department at Glentree Estates, the appointed estate agent for the project.

West Heath Place features a collection of luxury new homes on Finchley Road, NW11. Providing an attractive range of new apartments, penthouses and a unique cottage, West Heath Place offers some of the finest in modern living in London.

Designed by renowned architect Igal Yawetz, West Heath Place is a collection of 48 two, three and four-bedroom new build apartments and penthouses. The development also features a concierge, onsite gym, underground parking, CCTV and good bus transport links into central London. The only downfall is that the local tube stations - Finchley Road and Golders Green - are a bus ride away.

All of the homes at West Heath Place feature a high specification throughout, with oak engineered flooring to the entrance hall and living rooms, built-in custom wardrobes to the master bedroom and second bedroom and, in a selection of apartments; fully fitted walk in wardrobes are provided to the dressing rooms. Prices start from £795,000 for a two-bedroom apartment.

Karen Morris, Glentree Estates New Homes comments: "West Heath Place is North West London's newest development and arguably one of the finest. The wide range of homes available have been designed to suit everyone's larger three and four bedroom apartments perfect for families and those seeking more space. We expect to receive a lot of interest in this exciting new development."